Nixon never considered resigning

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)

—President Nixon admitted Wednesday to "scandalous conduct" within his administration in the past, but said he never considered resigning and was determined to "move on from Watergate to the business of the people.

In his first news conference since March 15, before the Watergate dam broke, the President's voice trembled as he defended his refusal to release the Watergate tapes and lashed out with barely concealed anger at his critics in the press and Congress and "those who would use the Watergate affair to

Said the President: "They want me to fail. I'm not going to fail. I'm going to do the best I can.'

The President began the televised meeting with reporters on the sunny lawn of his oceanfront estate by announcing his selection of White House foreign policy adviser Henry A. Kissinger to take on a second, dual assignment as secretary of state, succeeding William P. Rogers Sept. 3. But the rest of the unusually long, 50-minute session was dominated almost exclusively by Watergate, during which the President said specifically:

-He did not recall then acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III warning him in a July 6, 1972, telephone call that some of Nixon's closest White House aides were trying to "mortally wound" him by refusing to cooperate in the FBI's Watergate investigation.

-He told former White House counsel John W. Dean III last March 21 -and Dean agreed - that it would be wrong to raise as much as $1 million for the Watergate conspirators or to grant executive clemency.

-Throughout the period following the June 17, 1972, breakin at Democratic headquarters, "I would have expected Mr. Mitchell (former Attorney General John N. Mitchell) to tell me if he was involved or if anyone else was involved. He did not tell me." Nixon added he didn't blame Mitchell in retrospect, because "I would have blown my stack" had Mitchell told him the full Watergate

-When asked how much "personal blame" he accepted for the Watergate abuses, he replied: "I accept it all."

—Denied any impropriety in having former aide John D. Ehrlichman approach U.S. District Judge Matthew Byrne about the possibility of becoming FBI director while Byrne was presiding at the Pentagon Papers trial in Los

-He asked former White House chief of staff H. R. Haldeman to listen early in July to the tape of a Nixon-Haldeman conversation with Dean held Sept. 15, 1972, to make sure "we were absolutely correct in our response" to Dean's allegation that Nixon might have known about the Watergate coverup as early as the date of the September meeting.

Haldeman listened to the tape more than two months after he left the White House and before he testified in early August before the Senate Watergate committee, which has been denied access to that and other White House

-The September, 1971, breakin of the Daniel Ellsberg psychiatrist's office by White House undercover agents was "illegal, unauthorized and completely deplorable." But he said he and Assistant Attorney General Henry E. Petersen agreed April 18 they were not required to inform the Pentagon Papers trial jury because no evidence had been obtained from the break-in.

-He still considered Ehrlichman and Haldeman two of the finest public servants he has ever known, and was sure they would be exonerated in any court proceeding instead of being tried before the Senate committee and in newspapers or television.

In praising his two top former aides, the President said at one point: "We admit the scandalous conduct. Thank God, there has been no personal gain involved. That would be going much too far, I suppose."

President Nixon expressed "strengthened" confidence in Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's integrity Wednesday but said it would be "improper" for him to comment on allegations he accepted bribes and kickbacks while holding office in Maryland.

At his news conference at San Clemente, Calif., Nixon rejected as "inappropriate" a question as to whether he would expect Agnew to resign if indicted.

Nixon's remarks about Agnew appeared carefully worded. He appeared to draw a distinction between his confidence in Agnew's performance of his duties as vice president and his "activities that occurred before he was vice president" - activities about which, he said, he should not

Manhunt ends in Nixon plot

TAOS, N.M. (UPI) -Edwin Michael Gaudet Jr. rode down a dusty northern New Mexico country road in a pickup truck and surrendered to Secret Service agents Wednesday on charges of threatening to kill President Nixon

The 30-year-old former policeman was wanted on a federal warrant filed in New Orleans

He had eluded heavily-armed Secret Service and other police officers in the backwoods of Sangre de Cristo mountains, but his wife, Judy, coaxed him into surrendering Wednesday.

His wife, with Gaudet and his cousin sitting beside her, drove the suspect to along a dirt road near the adobe commune of 'Morning Star' north of Taos, where he was met by Secret Service agent-in-charge John Paul Jones and several officers.

Gaudet stepped from the old blue-green pickup and gave himself up to Jones. The agent asked Gaudet if he knew his constitutional rights, and Gaudet replied: "You could run it over with me.

Gaudet was arraigned before a federal magistrate in Albuquerque and bond set at $100,000. He was jailed pending an extradition hearing.

The burly Gaudet, wearing a green shirt and black pants, declined to talk about the charges against him.

"I have to talk to my attorney," Gaudet said, and then blurted: "The government is organized crime; the Pope is head of the Mafia, and I support Angela Davis for president of the United States." Gaudet's wife and cousin, Stanley Gaudet, had persuaded Secret Service agents to call off the search Tuesday night.

The warrant said Gaudet had been overheard to say in a New Orleans drugstore last week, 'Somebody ought to kill President Nixon. If no one has the guts, I'll do it.

Gaudet's wife said she knew he could not have made the threat last week in New Orleans, because he was living with her at the commune then.

Lawyers in historic bout over secret W'gate tapes

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Nixon's lawyer, opening the historic legal battle over Nixon's Watergate tapes, argued Wednesday that the sole check on any abuse of presidential power lies not in the courts but in Congress through impeachment.

Charles Alan Wright, in a scholarly argument before Chief U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, contended the courts are powerless to compel a president to reveal any secret communications once he has determined it is "not in the public interest

But Special Watergate Prosecutor Archibald Cox, whose suit against the President to force release of the critical tape recordings is unprecedented in American history, contended the Constitution gives no man -not even president -the right to withhold vital evidence from a grand jury.

He said the Watergate grand jury must have the tapes to weigh allegations of criminality in the White House before deciding whom to indict.

There is reason to believe that the executive offices have been corrupted," said Cox, "although the extent of the rot is not vet clear.

But at his news conference in California later in the day, Nixon again adamantly refused to release the tapes or to compromise and let an independent panel examine them. For a President to conduct the affairs of this office effectively, he must be able to do so with the principle of confidentiality intact," he said. "Otherwise people can't talk to him ... they will always be speaking in a eunuch-like way rather than laying it on Nixon said he stood by, but would not go beyond, the statement of a White House press spokesman that the President would abide by a "definitive ruling" of the Supreme Court on the tapes dispute.

Cox and Wright, both law professors, squared off at a two-hour hearing before Sirica in the same huge ceremonial courtroom where he began the trial of the original Watergate Seven last January. More than 300 members of the press, lawyers and curious spectators were jammed into its pew-like seats. Sirica, who has ordered Nixon to show cause why he should not be compelled to release the tapes, thanked both Cox and Wright for their "masterful exposition of the issues" and said he hoped to announce his ruling "within a week from today.'

His decision was expected to be appealed quickly all the way to the Supreme Court. Two lawyers who have had extensive dealings with the judge said they expected Sirica to side with Cox and order Nixon to release

"Cox had the better arguments," said one lawyer, who asked not to be identified.

High price cuts food supplies in schools

By United Press International Rising prices may force many American children to go with little or no food at their school cafeterias when the fall term begins, according to an executive of a food association.

Dr. John Perryman, executive director of the 60,000member American Food Service Association (AFSA) blamed the shortage on spiraling prices of food and labor, ceilings and the refusal of the Agriculture Department to increase school lunch funding.

While the AFSA was worrying about the school situation, rustlers and burglars were doing their bit to increase the shortage of basic foods inevitably driving prices higher on the legitimate market.

Agnew group indicted

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (upi) -A committee which sponsored a 1972 gala for Vice President Spiro T. Agnew was named in an indictment Wednesday charging a conspiracy to file false financial reports in connection with the dinner. Seven members of the committee, including a close friend of the vice president, were specifically cited but not charged in the indictment, handed down Tuesday by the Anne Arundel County grand jury but kept secret for 24 hours.

States Attorney Warren Duckett said the seven persons were alleged to be more culpable than other members of the committee, but that none would be considered defendants. "At most, they would be considered alleged co-conspirators," he

The indictment accused the committee of four counts of conspiracy to conceal the fact that a $50,000 loan used as seed money for a "Salute to Ted Agnew Night" in Baltimore last year was from the Committee to Re-elect the President. The money was listed with the state elections board as donations by individuals.

Duckett denied newsmen's suggestions that because of political reasons he decided the committee and not its members should be charged. The maximum penalty on each count is $1,000 or one year in jail. Duckett said he would not seek a jail sentence and declined to predict how the court might apportion the fines.

Threat to kill President 'real plot'

By United Press International

The Secret Service centered on New Orleans Wednesday its investigation of "a very real plot" to assassinate President Nixon after a suspect in a Nixon death threat, Edwin Michael Gaudet Jr., surrendered in New Mexico.

The Secret Service disclosed the conspiracy against Nixon about the same time that a warrant was announced for Gaudet, a former New Orleans policeman.

But the Secret Service said the correlation of facts did not indicate that Gaudet was a party to the conspiracy to assassinate, which was planned for Nixon's visit Monday to New Orleans.

After a two-day manhunt that quickly centered in the southwest United States, Gaudet surrendered Wednesday to a posse of Secret Service agents and sheriff's deputies in northern New Mexico.

Sources told UPI in Washington that the threat of an assassination by a group, probably unrelated to Gaudet, was " a very real thing" and that the Secret Service and the FBI were working intensively on the case.

Nixon on spot and it's black

No one can doubt for a moment that there are literally millions of people around our country today thinking out loud that the United States would be better off without Richard Nixon.

And things beings how they are, surely thousands are thinking out loud he'd be better off dead. And, if so, then hundreds (we're getting down to one-one hundredths of one per cent now) might aspire to do the job.

It seemed surprising when Oswald shot President Kennedy and then Ruby shot Oswald. It was less unexpected when Martin Luther King and Robert Kennedy were killed. It was not too surprising when Governor Wallace was hit and probably it is inevitable that someone will at least take a shot at Nixon.

Our Presidents have always had political enemies and the current President has been thrice blessed. Given Watergate as a snake pit, the venom is flowing freely. One thing that was for sure in the President's talk last week, the majority of the senators on the Ervin committee are out to smack Nixon first. The legislative value of the hearings is a technical after thought.

The disclosure of some sort of plot to try to assassinate the President emphasizes the crisis we are in. As with the disclosure of Watergate complications, it is likely to get worse to the peril of us all, especially the President.

The Constitution might not survive another assas-

Our commuter haven

Have a pipe dream . . . The metro liner leaves Cresco at 7:30 a.m., stop in East Stroudsburg at 7:45 and is in Penn Station each morning before 9.

Remote? The track is here. The potential commuters are here — or soon will be. And there's a growing movement toward mass transit that could provide the federal funds to get such rail service started. Once initiated, such a system could be expected to carry itself — with limited subsidization.

Given the financial status of most potential commuters from the Poconos, the railway liner is at least a possibility but closer to the present is a certain growth of commuter bus systems linking us with New York's metropolitan area.

Presently I-84 in Pike County leads people from places like Hemlock Farms into New York in two hours. You must really love your country retreat to endure that ride daily. Yet it's done.

What if you could make the bus trip in an hour and 20 minutes? People have been doing that for years into what once were the garden spots of Long Island, Connecticut and New Jersey. Now their garden spots are blighted and the Poconos offer a haven.

And when I-80 is finished later this year (that's a promise, says the Jersey DOT) a Big City family with new roots in our community will think life is normal when daddy is gone from 7 to 7 each day.

Finally made it

Duffy Daugherty entertained the troops at the annual Football Writers Association of America with a yarn which concerned a couple that had been married 50 years. The wife was a spiritualist; the husband believed in predestination. The husband died and the wife began attending even more seances in hopes of contacting her beloved.

Finally, one night his voice came through loud and clear. She was overjoyed, but at the same time was unable to keep an "I-told-you-so" tone out of her voice.

"What's it like there," she purred.

"Really," he replied, "you wouldn't believe it. The sky is beautiful, the water a clear blue and the place is full of willing young creatures with the loveliest, big brown eyes.' A bit chagrined, she scolded, "Well, I never thought heaven would be anything like that!"

"Heaven!" he answered, "who said anything about heaven. I'm a bull in Montana.'

All the way home

A man walked into a travel bureau. "I would like to make reservations for a trip around the world," he told the newly

"Yes sir," replied the clerk cheerfully. "Will that be round trip or one way?'

Today's discovery

I find that the communication between my son and myself has been much better since he stopped giving me advice.

Should freeze be lifted?

Beef price ceiling

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

WASHINGTON - With beef disappearing from supermarket shelves, President Nixon is coming under increasing pressure from cattlemen, consumers, Congress and even his own cabinet to lift the ceiling on beef prices.

In announcing his Phase IV economic controls program, the President left beef prices under a ceiling established last March even as he freed most meats and other foods from the - day general price freeze he imposed in June. Nixon announced that the beef price ceiling would stay in effect until Sept. 12.

Beef prices could stay frozen, the administration reasoned, because beef production hadn't suffered as much as poultry and pork production under meat ceilings. Although cattlemen could be expected to hold cattle off the markets until Sept. 12, they added, that beef would be sold after the ceiling is lifted, increasing supplies and restraining prices.

But with shortages evidently more severe than anticipated, the meat industry, consumers and members of Congress have urged the administration to drop the beef price ceiling immediately. Even Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz has criticized the beef price ceiling, terming it "noble in purpose" but "doubly counterproductive."

Should the government terminate the beef price ceiling before its scheduled Sept. 12 expiration? Here are arguments presented by participants in the debate.

The decision to keep beef prices under the ceiling, while intending to spread out inevitable food price increases under Phase IV, will only result in intensified demand pressures after the freeze. that will push prices higher after Sept. 12.

With the prices frozen, cattlemen know that they can earn higher prices for their beef only after Sept. 12. Figuring that prices ultimately will increase after the ceiling comes off, they're holding cattle from the market. With their profits squeezed by skyrocketing prices for feed grains, it's in their economic interest to do so

As a result, packing houses are processing about 30 per cent less beef than they were in August of last year. Because beef is scarce, released when those products were freed from the freeze in July.

Continuing the ceiling on beef alone is unir, singling out one product and food industry for tougher treatment. It's especially unfair in light of tremendous cost increases that cattlemen have been forced to absorb in recent

By disrupting beef supplies, the policy does help consumers. They gain nothing by frozen prices if beef is not available for buying. While not helping consumers, the ceiling is forcing packing plants to close, putting thousands of employes out of work.

Even if beef supplies return to the markets after Sept. 12, the restraining effect on prices could be only temporary. Ultimately, the cost of beef will stay high until the cost of feeding cattle goes down.

In moving the economy - especially the sensitive food sector - out of the freeze, it is desirable to disengage in phases. That way, the nation can avoid an excessive bulge in prices as producers catch up on cost increases earlier in

In the case of poultry and pork, the freeze was causing severe disruption of production, including reduction of breeding stocks, that would depress supplies for months to come.

In the case of beef, on the other hand, there is no evidence that the price ceiling was having any adverse effect on long - term supplies, With the freeze continued, cattlemen will hold beef back from the market until prices are allowed to rise. But that beef eventually will be sold, increasing supplies and thus helping to hold prices to reasonable levels

Special treatment of beef is justified by large increases in beef prices during the first part of 1973. From January to June, the wholesale price index for steers rose by 60 per cent. Wholesale prices for beef and veal increased by 44 per cent, and consumer prices for beef and veal by 38 per cent.

Those who argue that beef prices must be allowed to rise forget the impact of such increases on the nation's poor. By lifting the ceiling, the government would help the beef industry and wealthier Americans who could afhowever, demand for poultry and pork has ford higher beef prices at the expense of those grown, adding to upward price pressures who could not pay them.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Progress should stand still now

Editor, The Record:

Bert Walter in his column (In Retrospect, August 15, 1973) states that "the influx of new industry and business is at a standstill." He states that the situation exists "Because there is a housing shortage." To Mr. Walter, "Housing action (is) needed" and the way to get it is to appoint a task force representing real estate, business, industry, banks and government and consider the "possibility of providing tax incentives.'

I could not be in more complete agreement with Mr. Walter that "the task force . . . is a good way to start." I cannot agree, however, that it is a bad thing that "the influx of new industry and business is at a standstill." Rather, I believe that such a hiatus is a godsend. It provided Monroe County with an opportunity to plan and formulate solutions before social, political, administrative and economic forces create the kinds of problems characteristic of many urban, suburban and rural communities exposed to rapid uncontrolled change. With all due respects to the many dedicated public officials who have been preaching this sermon for years, Monroe County appears particularly vulnerable to the urban diseases which promises to follow uncontrolled growth throughout the tri-state area.

people commute into the area to fill the new jobs. Manhattan has more than 400,000 people a day pouring in from the larger metropolitan area, and Westchester, a Suburban County about 20 miles from Times Square, has more people coming in to work each day than leave to work elsewhere. It seems to me that sharing a job surplus with New Jersey would be in compensation for the hundreds of thousands of people who use its roads to travel to the Poconos and buy only gas there because it is cheaper than in New York or Pennsylvania, As for helping economically depressed Wilkes-Barre-Scranton it is in the best self-interest of Monroe County to do so. Commuting workers don't require, among things other than housing, sewers, schools, police, welfare or even

In rejecting an increase in the number of commuters in the labor force while taking only one of the steps necessary to provide for a larger county population (building housing accomodations), is a blind willingness to accept the accompanying social forces and problems that can be anticipated without preparation for their control and solution.

My credentials to speak from more than twenty-five years of large scale professional experience in residential management. I have no doubt that space considerations placed limitations on the depth to which Mr. Walter explored the Monroe County housing problem. for in other columns, over the years, he has spoken out about the other needs of the Coun-

Perhaps Mr. Walter and I are not too far apart in our desire that all persons should be able to find decent, safe and sanitary housing Mr. Walter sees something wrong in having Mr. Walter did not mention in his "Housing Action Needed" column anything about Monroe County's many other pressing and higher (?) priority problems. Hopefully, this was an oversight or is a subject reserved for future

Responsibility must be considered

Editor, The Record:

Those who are speaking out publicly with such an air of authority should first consider the fact that President Nixon has not only authority, but authority-plus-responsibilty.

To those who are able to recognize this distinction, the comments and editorials that are now being published are simply manifestations of either ignorance or of little minds with unfounded dreams of importance.

I would urge others who are tempted to downgrade our President to ponder the following two admonitions. The one is known to Rotarians the world over as their "Four Way

"Is it the TRUTH?

"Is it FAIR to all concerned? "Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER

FRIENDSHIPS? "Will it be BENEFICIAL to all

And the other thought — from the epistle of Paul to the Romans, chapter 14, verse 13:

"Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather that no man put a stumbling block or occasion to fall in his brother's way.'

House study disputes Nixon

By JACK ANDERSON and LES WHITTEN

WASHINGTON - To put the Indians who rampaged through the Bureau of Indian Affairs in the worst possible light, the government grossly overstated the damage they had done. It also grossly understated the support of their goals among other Indians. When the militant Trail of Broken Treaties caravan vacated the building last November, the government announced that only the burning of Washington by the British in 1814 and the San Francisco earthquake caused greater damage.

Fearful that the militant's ideas would be adopted by young Indians all over America, the government paid to fly Indians to Washington to join it in denouncing the BIA occupiers as urban upstarts who had no support among reservation tribes.

We have now obtained an in - depth study by the House Appropriations Committee mark-"Not for Release Until Authorized by Committee." In calm language, it firmly disputes many of the Nixon Administrations' assertions

Damage total

The document reports that instead of the $2.28 million damage estimated by the Administration, the actual total is closer to $1.5 million. Both figures include lost wages and similar costs.

As to charges that the occupiers were merely rabble - rousing city malcontents without real reservation membership, the House staff study found just the opposite was true. Based on the best available figures, "over 50 per cent of the Trial of Broken Treaties participants were reservation Indians." When rural and college Indians temporarily away from reservations were included, he figure was "close to . . . 70 per cent."

Like most Americans, many Indians saw the BIA takeover as "an exercise in futility" and they viewed the destruction with "scorn. But Indians also confided to the House probers that the militants' "Twenty Points . . . embodied long - held Indian grievances and established a position they would support." All but forgotten in the hysteria of the BIA coup, the Twenty Points were demands for enforcement of present treaties, home rule by Indians on Indian lands, return of much Indian land and federal social help.

Prison inmates In South Dakota, for instance, the Indians "account for merely one - twelfth of the population (but) one - half of the girls committed to reform schools and one - third of the male inmates at the state prison," said the The House investigators spent more than three months trudging through six states to interview Indians of all persuasions and found generally they "believe they have been making greater strides than ever before . . . through legitimate channels by authorized leadership." They found that many Indians denounced the American Indian Movement which led the BIA takeover. But "among young people . . . , a new sense of pride in being Indian has created a fertile field (for) AIM." The House probers vigorously attacked the dual standards of certain law enforcement agencies in their treatment of Indians, ranging from neglect to harrassment, depending on whether Indians are the victims or perpertrators of the crime.

The investigation also dealt courageously with what pro - Indian whites only whisper about and most Indians prefer to forget: the corruption and inefficiency among tribal councilmen who are denounced by young Indians as 'Uncle Tomahawks."

Because councilmen get $50 a day and per diem expenses while their councils are in session, "the job has become highly desirable and has given rise to excesses in political machinations . . Many councilmen "are unqualified for leadership, suffer inadequacies because of personal problems, lack the business acumen necessary . . . and generally neglect the responsibilities . . But the federal government drains away many of the best potential leaders to work for the Bureau of Indian Affairs, thus often leaving the tribes leaderless.

How to beat meat swindle

(This is the second of a two-part series)

What I do not know about cooking would make a lovely encyclopedia. Those who read the previous column will recall that Mrs. Margarite Williams, Chief Dietitian at Hollywood Memorial Hospital, arranged seven days of attractive family menus, using the smallest amounts of meat.

Four were published. Each will nourish the human body with all of its protein, starches and mineral requirements. The remainder of the menus follows:

FIFTH DAY

Breakfast: Orange juice; pancake mix, to which add peanut butter and waffle syrup; milk. LUNCH: Italian - creamed spaghetti in casserole, add shreds of poultry - call it Turketti. Serve with green beans, Waldorf salad; bread and margarine; oatmeal raisin Dinner: Navy bean stew - cook beans well. Add minced celery, onions, carrots, a small slice of salt pork for flavor. Serve with fried potatoes; cole slaw; corn bread and margarine; canned peaches.

Breakfast: Grapefruit juice; Cream of Wheat; toast, margarine, strawberry preserves: milk.

SIXTH DAY

Lunch: Tuna fish Monterey - shortening in pan, dice onions, celery, green pepper, drained canned mushrooms; smidge of crushed garlic. Cook these until onions are transparent. Then cold running water and drained again. add tomato puree, salt, pepper, chili powder, little sugar, liquid drained from mushrooms. Stir constantly; bring to a boil. Cut down heat and simmer 35 min. Cook rice. Set aside until needed. Add chunks of tuna fish, and mix sprinkles of grated Parmesan cheese. Serve sauce, rice and tuna lightly. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Serve with green peas, sweet pickles, bread and margarine. Dessert: fruit salad.

Dinner: Egg Turnover. Roll a large pastry crust 1/8 inch thick. Cut into circles six inches in diameter. Make egg salad to suit. Fold sides of crust on top egg salad. Seal edges with tines of fork. Punch small holes in top. Place egg turnovers on greased baking sheet. Beat small amount of raw eggs with tablespoon of milk. Brush this across the turnovers. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Remove when golden brown. Loosen from tray at once.

SEVENTH DAY Breakfast: Stewed prunes, oatmeal, cheese toast, milk. LUNCH: Frozen cod fish fillets bake and add lemon butter. Serve with Harvard beets; popped corn with butter topping; lime sherbet and sugar cookies.

Dinner: Ham Hocks and Steamed Cabbage. Cook the ham hocks in pot of water. Remove ham and keep it hot. Cut cabbage and place in ham hock water. This one is simple to make, and nourishing. Serve with yams; cottage cheese and chives. For dessert, frosted pineapple chunks. If, as is always possible, there are items which do not appeal to the family, other main dishes may be substituted. In our house, we like baked macaroni. This is cooked in a casserole, with sufficient milk to keep it from sticking. Housewives know that the macaroni must be cooked first, drained, then cooled in

Build the casserole with a layer of macaroni, a layer of sharp cheddar cheese, another layer of macaroni, another of cheese, until the casserole is % full. Top it with heavy mand will determine how much we pay for The average working head of family now earns more than ever. He could, until recently, afford standing rib roasts on Sunday and small steaks and chops during the week. Mrs. Williams, who drew up these balanced menus, admitted that, in spite of rising costs of hospitalization, she had to stop ordering

French-cut lamb chops. She buys for a large institution and the chops cost $3.95 a pound. The suffering of old people living on pensions, and those on Social Security, amounts to calculated cruelty. If Americans, as an outraged people, stop buying excessive amounts of meat, the law of supply and demand will work for the greatest good for the greatest number.

Imagine me publishing menus! I can hardly wait to see what I write next. . .

Ann Landers High blood pressure

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are both 48. Our marriage was fine, until two years ago. I don't know whether George should change jobs or see a psychiatrist. He is a garage mechanic and makes good money but I'm not sure it's worth it. Maybe the exhaust fumes he inhales all day are doing this to him. He has become irritable and short of energy. He complains of frequent headaches that come and go. Our sex life used to be wonderful but he hasn't even made the effort in three months. The last few attempts were failures and I think he's ashamed to try

I've suggested that he see a doctor but he says he's not sick. (His work record is excellent). Can he be going through the male menopause? Is it normal for a man of 48 to be through with sex? What about it, Ann?

Seeking Counsel Dear S.C.: It may well be that George's trouble is due to the male menopause. judge. However, your mention of headaches, fatigue and no interest in sex suggests another possibility — high blood pressure (technically called hypertension). It's the most common serious disease in this country — and sneaky, too. Nearly 24 million Americans have it. This means one person in ten.

Half of these sick people don't even know they are sick, because often there are no symptoms. The person who HAS symptoms is lucky, in a way, because he just might go to a doctor BEFORE he has a stroke or a heart attack or is stricken with blindness or kidney failure.

A person's blood pressure can be measured in less than two minutes. It is simple and painless. Virtually every case of hypertension can be successfully treated today with medication.

I urge everyone who reads booklet that tells you what to look for and what to do about - especially women who take the Pill. There is now clinical evidence that these women run the risk of stroke.

It seems the groom's divorce didn't come through in time for the second marriage to be valid, so they decided that since the invitations had been sent out and the plans were made. they would go ahead with the 'wedding" and be legally married by a J.P. of something. ### Book Tells How To Knit Raglans

"Raglans Unlimited" is a book of concise and simple knitting directions for all basic raglar sweaters: Pullovers and Cardigans, with a choice of Round, Turtle or V neck: even a choice of long or short sleeves in the lighter weights of yarn. As a matter of fact, you can make 416 different sweaters from this book without repeating!

This book gives all patterns worked from the neck down—the very popular method of knitting raglans which has heretofore been so hard to find in a range of sizes and for different weights of yarn. As most knitters know, or will be delighted to discover, this method of knitting a sweater gives a finished garment that requires an absolute minimum of finishing or putting together and eliminates entirely the necessity of "setting in" sleeves - a task which so many knitters find objectionable.

Instructions are given for all sizes ranging from 2 through 52. There are very few knitting instruction books available with these larger sizes for any style or type of sweater, much less raglans.

Also: the instructions are given for four different weights of yarn: fine weight fingering yarn, medium weight sport yarn; heavy weight knitting worsted and also for the bulky weight. Directions are written so that a complete sweater can be made without turning a page, with none of the usual tracking down of bits and pieces of information from page to page, to be put together like a jigsaw puzzle. This should appeal to the most experienced knitter, as it certainly will to the novice - and all degrees of skill in between. "Raglans Unlimited" is not available in stores and can be purchased only through the mail by sending $2.00 (postpaid) to Knit 'N Notion, P.O. Box 161, Fairless Hills, Pa. 19030. Dept. B81.

Stroud Club ready to go on glowing stop signs

STROUDSBURG - Stop signs all over the country may be glowing with luminescent light to promote night - time safety if the Stroud Community Woman's Club is successful in concluding its Community Improvement Project.

The project, started several years ago, has already provided the luminescent paint for stop signs in Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and Stroud Twp. At the summer board meeting of the club held at the home of the president, Lois Payne, members were asked to give serious consideration to extending it to the whole county.

Kitty Miller is community improvement chairperson. This is the year on which the report will be filed.

It was a busy meeting with plans for programs, money revising projects and club activities discussed and chairpersons named for the club's working committees..

In addition to the various charities to which the club contributed during the ad-

Despite the big push on equality of the sexes, there are certain situations in which a grandfather would be much more useful than a grandmother, and one of those is fishing.

It all started when Peter, now 7, found a fish-hook and an old casting rod, minus reel or line. A grandfather might have been able to rig up something better than a piece of string and a cork for a bobber, but it satisfied Peter.

Which came very early, I might add, so early that in an effort not to wake everybody else getting breakfast, we slapped together some sandwiches, in the process acquiring three-year-old Pam in her warm pajamas and a life jacket and took off in the boat on a river of silver satin.

A grandfather might know where "the fish are." grandmother looks for a place where the sun is shining, the morning breeze isn't blowing too hard, and where the current doesn't require too vigorous rowing.

It was always someplace else that the fish were jumping with plops that echoed and circles that turned the satin to moire. The fish weren't hungry, because he got nary a nibble. But ham sandwiches taste extra ordinarily good for breakfast to humans in the middle of a

And the skaters that scooted over the water, the dragon fly that lighted on the oars, the seaweed that caught on the hook were enough to keep Pam entranced. What Peter needed was somebody who had ever caught a fish for solace if not success.

Your Horoscope Frances Drake

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) - Mars highly auspicious. A good day for pushing ahead aggressively with important issues - especially those involving business and finance.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) - Curb a tendency toward lethargy now. An indifferent attitude could cause you to lose out on good opportunities.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) Avoid present tendencies to scatter energies and to start too many things at one time. Neither enter into new activities without thorough investigation.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) The "usual way" may not be good enough now. But take care not to go too far out on the experimental limb. Resourcefulness, excellent in this Sign, needed.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) if a proposed plan or project. is well-advised, try it, even though it is "different." It just could prove to be one of your more interesting challenges.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) - Meet and discuss plans with others involved, but don't be dismayed if you run into petty quibbling. Overlook minor differences to attain the more important objectives.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Don't get ahead of yourself. There is a tendency now to rush matters to hasty completion, to plan too far ahead without full preparation or understanding. Care!

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) - Originality and imagination, thoughtfully directed, can brighten this day and boost your status. But keep everything in line and don't go to extremes.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — You may face some complications - in quite unexpected areas. How you handle situations and the pace you set will determine your progress.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Do not become witlessly involved in so many activities that you neglect the ones pertinent NOW. Conditions excellent for useful discussions, commitments.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — It may require some extra patience to get started now, but once you get on the proper footing, there is no limit to the gains you can achieve.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) - You may encounter some "clouds" in the form of delays, impasses. All could lead to eventual good. Take benefits and bumps with equal aplomb. YOU BORN TODAY, as a Leo-Virgo cuspal (one born at the change of Signs) are endowed with the dominate traits of both. You have the Leoite's hearty, outgoing attitude toward life coupled with the Virgoan's practicality, meticulousness and thirst for knowledge - also his keen critical faculties which, if abused, could make him a difficult person whth whom to get along. Your ideas are always sound, however. It's how you express them which could alienate others. So. . . ? Care! You could make a great success of medicine, expecially as a diagnostician; would make a reformer with a tremendous following; could succeed in almost any form of business, but should choose some type of art as an outlet for your deep emotions.

When Crissey and Charney held the North-South cards for Toronto, against Montreal, the bidding went as shown. Crissey made a good decision in jumping to six hearts. He reasoned he had a much better hand than his one spade bid had shown, and so often determines whether a virtually single-handed undertaking of eleven tricks

Charney justified that faith when he ruffed the opening club lead, played the ace of trumps, catching the king, then cashed two more trumps before leading the queen of diamonds. West followed low, of course, and later scored his king of diamonds, but that did not stop Charney from bringing the slam home.

When the Montreal pair held the North-South cards, they also arrived at six hearts and got a club lead. But the declarer went down one at this table when he adopted an inferior line of play, paying the supreme penalty. He also ruffed the club lead.

but at trick two played a low diamond to the nine. The finesse worked, all right, but the hand suddenly collapsed when East ruffed the diamond and returned a club. It did not matter whether declarer ruffed high or low; in either case West was sure to make a trump trick and so stop the

Coolbaugh may seek injunction on haulers

By STEVE DRACHLER Pocono Record Reporter

TOBYHANNA - Coolbaugh Township officials may seek a court injunction to stop the dumping of raw sewage on a field off of Rte. 196 in the eastern part of the Herman Martens of Mt. Airy Lodge had obtained a temporary permit to use the 30-acre site for dumping sewage from septic and holding tanks.

Martens' permit from the Department of Environmental Resources helped end the strike by Monroe County liquid waste haulers last week by giving them a place to legally dump sewage.

Township Supervisors' Chairman James Cadue claimed Wednesday sewage dumped on the open field since haulers returned to work Saturday has been disposed of

They haven't plowed the stuff under properly," Cadue claimed. "In fact, they haven't used the machinery Mt. Airy purchased last week for them.'

'I just can't see why they were even granted a temporary permit. Just what is a temporary permit?" he

He said he asked a DER official about the temporary permit status and the official could not tell him how long it would be in effect.

Before a regular permit can be granted by DER, tests have to be taken and the geology of the land studied to determine whether or not the sewage dumped on the ground will contaminate water supplies.

Haulers are in the process of seeking approval on seven other sites within Monroe County. Cadue said township solicitor George Robinson has been instructed to inquire into the possibilities of seeking an injunction to halt the dumping.

Cadue estimated haulers had dumped about 58,000 gallons of raw sewage on the lot since they went back to work Saturday.

Cadue also said he didn't know what legal outlet the township really has to fight the dumping. Robinson is on vacation and was unable to be contact-

'Until we adopt a subdivision ordinance, we don't really have any way, save an injunction, to fight it," he

"But, mark my words, when we get our subdivision ordinance adopted, and that should be before next year, it will be so tight they'll never do it again," he clamored.

"There is no goddamned way in the world we want that stuff dumped in this township," he exclaimed angri-

One hauler, Bryden Newhart of Stroudsburg R. D. 3, said he didn't blame supervisors for wanting to take ac-

"I'd be madder than heck if I lived next to the dumping site," Newhart said Wednesday. "There is just too much sewage going onto the ground there.

He said DER should never have approved the Coolbaugh site without finding other alternate dumping sites for the haulers.

"And what I really can't understand," Newhart said, 'was why we dump there now when that is the exact same spot where Barry Nauman was dumping when he

Nauman and Mt. Airy Lodge were cited for illegal dumping on the spot earlier this summer, with their case

Newhart said all of the haulers on strike earlier this

Pocono Record Reporter STROUDSBURG - A halfway house for alcholics may be a reality by the end of 1973 for the Tri-County Drug and Alcohol Abuse Program (for Monroe, Carbon and Pike Counties).

Caseworkers have been actively seeking a house since the D and A Council approved release of $13,500 of budgeted funds Aug. 14.

The halfway house, concept, however, has been in the planning stages for over a year.

According to Lloyd Lyter, caseworker in charge of the project, several buildings have been inspected and at least one is "almost ideal." The project will be located in the Stroudsburg area.

The D and A Program must rent, rather than buy, a facility because it is a state-run and primarily state-funded operation.

from nine to 14 male alcoholics in the process of rehabilitation. According to Lyter, the men who will be admitted will have either gone through a detoxification program or spent five days of "proven sobriety.

A rehabilitated alcoholic will act as residential house manager, Lyter said.

The manager and the residents will comprise "a therapeutic community," according to Lyter.

Residents will be supportive to one another and provide companionship in what is often a lonely situation, according to Peggy Kuller, a program nurse helping Lyter in his push for a halfway house would, as soon as they a family situation," he observbecome employable, be asked to find a job. Each resident will contribute a nominal sum for room and board.

Household maintenance will be up to the residents as would household policy.

Residents will also remain attached to the Drug ane Alcohol Program for therapy and counseling sessions. However, an Alcoholics Anonymous meeting will be scheduled for a weekly meeting in the house. "An alcoholic is completely surrounded by his drinking problem," Lyter pointed out. The house will provide him with a chance to deal with a peer group while a job and the program will give him a chance to get out in the com-

Aaron slams 705th; ine from record

ATLANTA (UPI) -Pinch-hitter Jose Cruz hit a towering two-run homer over the right field fence in the ninth inning Wednesday night to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 6-4 victory over the Atlanta Braves despite Hank Aaron's 705th career home run.

Bernie Carbo singled with one out in the ninth and Cruz came on to bat for Mike Tyson, hitting a Joe Niekro pitch high up on the right field wall about 20 feet from the ground.

The Braves had tied the score at 4-4 in the seventh when

An inning earlier, the 39-year old Aaron, now just nine home runs behind Babe Ruth's career record, hit his 32nd homer of the season, a line drive over the 375-foot mark in left centerfield.

The Cardinals jumped into a 4-2 lead in the top of the sixth when they scored three runs, two on solo home runs by Ted Sizemore and Joe Torre and the other when Ted Simmons singled home Tim McCarver, who had doubled.

aced the 140-yard hole Wednesday with a seven iron. It was the second of the year at the club. The other one? You guessed it. It was on the eighth hole.

Dave Duncan led off with a single, Ron Lolich singled him to second and Forster advanced them with a balk. Frank Duffy then lined out and Duncan was caught trying to steal home. Torres followed with a single to deep short, Lolich moving to third, but Forster got Tom Ragland on a fly to right field to end the inning. ab r h bi Chicago

U.S., Cubans brawl in Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI) -A wild and bloody melee between United States and Cuba men's basketball-players which was marked by flying chairs and broken glass shocked the securityconcious Russians Wednesday at the seventh World University

The brawl, which resulted in the American trainer being knocked unconcious and two other players bloodied by broken glass, overshadowed five more gold medals by the individual victory by U. S. swimmer Allen Poucher.

The Russians, of course, still maintain their stranglehold in the medals race with a total of 53 golds to just eight for the United States and three for

With just 90 seconds remaining in the U. S.-Cuba basketball game (won by the Americans. 98-70), an unidentified Cuban player kicked Mitchell Kupchuk of Brentwood, N.Y. KupCuban basket, but came up swinging, touching off a benchclearing riot that sent wood chairs and broken glass hurtling around the court. U.S. trainer Duane Woltzen of Sheboygan, Wis., was knocked unconcious.

With the Cubans slinging folding chairs at the Americans' heads, the shocked and outmanned handful of Soviet police at courtside were almost helpless. The light security was chuk went down in front of a complete contrast to the nononsense attitude the host Russians have portrayed at these games -especially in light of the hundred or so cropheaded police and soldiers who have surrounded the court at every Israeli contest.

North Carolina State's David Thompson, who led the U.S. scorers with 34 points, seemed dazed after the fight. "I can't believe this, man. I just can't believe this.

The U.S. win clinched a spot in the semifinals, but head coach Ed Badger vowed to lodge a protest with the technical committee.

Poucher, the 18-year-old All-America from Jacksonville, Fla., was the bright spot for the American swimmers who ran into the same unyielding Soviet strength the U.S. track and field men felt during the first week here.

An impressive winner in the 100-meter butterfly on Tuesday, Poucher came back to cop the 200-meter event over West Germany's Floket Meeuw in a Games record time of 2:05.7. Leading throughout the first two laps, Poucher, as if sensing Meeuw's late challenge, turned it on over the final 50 meters to win by a half length.

The U.S. swimmers, whose efforts have pulled the Yanks into a strong (but not challenging) second place with an overall total of eight gold medals, had to settle for a 3-3 split with the Russians in the six finals on the schedule. David Johnson of San Diego, Calif. was the other individual U.S. winner, taking the backstroke in 2:10.5.

The Russian swimmers, perhaps cheered by the sunny but chilly weather that prevailed Wednesday after Tuesday's heavy rains, wasted no time in taking it to the Americans. In the first race of the day, Lubov Rusanova upset world record holder and two-time Olympic gold medalist Cathy Carr in the 100-meter breaststroke.

Miss Carr, who won the more difficul 200-meter breaststroke on Tuesday, held a very slim edge at the turn but was overcome by her Russian rival on the second lap and lost out by an eyelash. Miss Rusanovas time of 1:15.5 was a new games record, but far below Miss Carrs world mark of 1:13.5.

In the next race, the Soviets' Nikolai Pamkin swam to another games record of 2:23.8 in whipping teammate Igor Tchordakov in the men's 200 meter breaststroke. Mark Chatfield of Glendale, Calif., and Geoffrey White of Tarzana, Calif., were only able to manage fourth and fifth respec-

Charges possible in derby case

The Ivory Snow girl did what?

AKRON,Ohio (UPI)-"It was like learning the Ivory Snow girl made blue movies. It's like seeing apple pie, motherhood and the American flag grinding to a halt.'

Those were the words of Summit County Prosecutor Stephen M. Gabalac Wednesday as he studied the possibility of filing charges in the Soap Box Derby Case.

The investigation has already spread to a cousin of this year's 'winner'', James Gronen, 14, of Boulder, Colo. Gronen was disqualified when it was learned his vehicle was illegally rigged with an electromag-

His cousin, Robert Lange Jr., also of Boulder, won the Derby in 1972. Young Lange's car was returned to him after the 1972 event, although this isn't usually the case.

Alex Hunter, the district attorney in Boulder, said he had assigned an assistant prosecutor and an investigator to the case.

"We are being besieged with people who had children in last year's race," said Hunter.

A search has started for last year's winning car, said Derby Secretary Sam Andress.

"I don't know why" the car was returned to Boulder, said Andress. "Of course there will be questions.

Andress said he assumed the car was shipped back because Chevrolet dropped its sponsorship of the race and for a time it appeared there would be no more derbys.

Gronen was believed en route to Oklahoma with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lange, the parents of last year's winner, who had accompanied him here for the

Action on Wall St. drops

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks continued to slide Wednesday on the New York Stock Exchange under the weight of neglect, with investors still in a bleak mood over soaring interest rates, inflation, and an uncertain political climate.

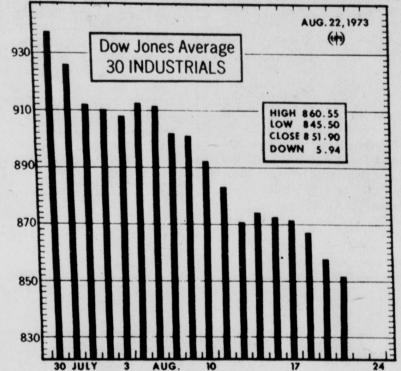

The Dow Jones industrial average-setting its third 20month low this week-skidded 5.94 to 851.90. Standard - Poor's 500 stock index fell 0.36 to 100.53, its lowest close of the year. The average price of a NYSE common share declined 15 cents.

Losers topped gainers, 872 to 452, among 1,725 issues traded. Trading was dispirited, totaling 10,770,000 shares, compared with 11,480,000 traded Tuesday. The stock market passed a crucial milestone, technical analysts said, when the Dow fell below the 860-level. They said investors were discouraged the market failed to stand up even to farily mild selling pressure, and so many apparently had decided to sell into the decline.

Monte Gordon of Dreyfus Fund said of the market's mood, "The Street is too worn out to respond to anything at this moment. Investors' attention is rivetted on higher interest rates, the Fed's tight money policies, and inflation." President Nixon held a news conference shortly before the to the newly-vacant post. Investors in stocks, while attentive to the conference, did not seem to react to its contents, either way.

Polaroid led the actives, market close, in which he tumbling 11% to 110% on announced the resignation of 168,100 shares after a delayed Secretary of State William opening. The stock was hit by Rogers, and the subsequent heavy selling following word appointment of Henry Kissinger Oppenheimer & Co. had lowered its earnings estimate for both 1973 and 1974 was second, up 1/4 to 271/4, on 127,000 shares, followed by Exxon, which lost 11/4 to 873/4 on 105,900 shares.

Panhandle Eastern Pipeline

Dart Industries, named in a class action suit for fraudulent sale of recreational lots in Kern County, Calif., fell 3. A Dart spokesman called the suit "totally without merit."

Gold mining issues moved downward, with the price of bullion sagging on foreign markets. Dome Mines lost 21/8, Campbell Red Lake 11/2, and ASA Ltd. 1.

Glamors weakened. ARA Services fell 11/2, Xerox and Bausch & Lomb a point each.

Sperry Rand tacked on 11/8, while Burroughs declined 21/4, Texas Instruments and Honeywell 11/8 apiece.

Among declining chemicals, DuPont (ex-dividend) slid 31/4, Eastman Kodak and Allied Chemical each lost a point.

Oils were mixed. Superior gained 43/8, but Halliburton dropped 25/8, and Getty 3/4.

United Aircraft lost a point, leading airlines and aircrafts to the downside.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange weakened in slow trading. The Amex index was off 0.06 to 22.74. Volume totaled 1.550,000 shares, compared with 1,610,000 traded Tuesday.
